

Keeping Indian Country Safe

By Rep. Stephanie Herseth Sandlin

July 24, 2008

Like many South Dakotans, I have been alarmed by some of the news about crime

In June of 2007, at my request, the House Committee on Natural Resources held a

One witness, Chairman

Joseph Brings Plenty of the Cheyenne River Reservation,

Certainly, the easiest remedy to many of the law enforcement shortages that trouble

In light of the amount of crime in Indian Country along with the obligations set forth

Specifically, the Tribal Law and Order Act would clarify the responsibilities of Federal

Native American families – like every other family in the United States - deserve to

###